

Q. 1. What does the poet mean when he says "Now the leaves are falling fast"?

Ans. The poet means that the leaves of the branches of the tree are leaving and the trees become leafless. It also meant by a person who glwly goes to its death and at last in a grave. Like a trees every human life has to destroy. There is none who can alive. Everyone is mortal, By saying this "Now the leaves are falling down fast" and the

Q.2. What are the words in the second stanza that suggest death effect of death on human body?

Ans. In the seemed stanza that suggest death and the effect of death on human body are the messengers of death. Freeze is also used after death.

Q.3. How do we complete our last journey to the grave?

Ans. When a man dead in.his life then after we complete our last journey to the grave.

Q.4. What do 'Trolls' do in the "leafless wood".

Ans. Tralls runs scolding for their food in the leafless wood. They search food to live.

Q.5. Who are the 'travellers' and how will they be blessed?

Ans. Cold, impossible, ahead and mountains are the travellers and they blessed as white waterfall, in their last distress.

Q.6. Which words in the first stanza suggest objects from Nature?

Ans. Nurse's flowers is that word in the first staza suggest objects from nature which means 'a nurse' in which flowers growing under or beside a supporting free.

Q.7. Who are the 'whispering neighbours'?

Ans. Agents or messengers of death are the whispering neighbours who came when a human body is dead.

Q.8. How does human life become miserable?

Ans. To suffer from disease and other problems, the human life became miserable and unhappy.

Q.9. In what way will the travellers be blessed?

Ans. Travellers will be blessed of those white waterfalls which come out from the mountain's head.

LONG ANSWER TYPE QUESTIONS

Q. 1. Falling of leaves suggests the process of death and human waste on a large scale. Explain with reference to the poem.

Ans. Falling of leaves suggest the process of death and human waste on a large scale. It means a human's life is just like a leaf which comes from a tree. Firstly a human life just starts as a baby and slowly it starts to grow. After some time a human life suffers of a lot of diseases. A little while a human life also changes. When weather changes the leaves fall down such as a human life also decreases.

Q.2. The poet is critical of negative tendencies of the human society. What are these tendencies? Give details.

Ans. The poet W. H. Auden wants to say that a human life is totally dependent on a human society. Without a human society it can't grow properly and also can't do anything good. The poet is critical of negative tendencies of the human society. These are different kinds of caste or creed. In this society different kinds of people live and also speak different kinds of languages. According to the poet all human life is the same and belongs to the same society but the people create different kinds of caste and distribute themselves. Poet says that it not should be done like this.

Q.3. Who are the 'strolls' in the real world?

Ans. In this poem 'The leaves are falling fast' is written by the poet W.H. Auden. According to his knowledge those people are the 'strolls' in the real world who distribute human life in different caste or criticism.

The people who did crime at anywhere and gave troubles to one, They always think themselves. They don't think about others and their problem, They hurt those people who is gentle. Such type of people are the 'strolls' in the real world.

Q.4. Though the poet refers to 'death' several times, yet the poem is not a pessimistic one. Justify your answer.

Ans. The poet W.H. Auden refers to death several times, yet the poem is not a pessimistic one. In this poem tells that a tree become leafless in this season. It seemed like an old person who suffers from a illness and can't live for a long such as the tree also seemed that it would soon dried.

As different types of season people also suffers from different kinds of disease: